PERSONAL STATEMENT

I am a graduated MSc Computer Science student looking to progress into the technology field. I have worked with a range of languages, development tools as well as experience in frontend, backend, machine learning, and system administration. I have gained relevant experience and soft skills in both group and personal projects, which allowed me to build on my problem solving, concentration and team working skills. Currently hosting multiple webapps and tinkering on different web technologies. I am keen to become a trainee developer.
